The Feuerwehr-Magazin is a magazine for all active firefighters and everyone working in disaster management and fire safety

Every month the Feuerwehr-Magazin provides full-time and volunteer firefighters in the entire German-speaking area with indispensable knowledge about vehicles, fire departments, equipment and technology. Additionally, the Feuerwehr-Magazin informs about legal issues and tactical approaches concerning firefighting operations. We are inspiration and investment advisor all at once. Only the Feuerwehr-Magazin regularly tests equipment and gives neutral market descriptions.

Most Feuerwehr-Magazin readers are young professionals who are technology enthusiasts with a doer mentality. Our readers are always on the lookout for new ideas, impulses and solutions for their daily work.

The Feuerwehr-Magazin is more than just a journal. We see our self as the information medium for firefighters in professional, volunteer and factory fire brigades as well as their honor and youth departments. With our website feuerwehr-magazin.de, our newsletter and our social media channels we supply the sector around the clock with the latest news and allow quick knowledge transfer.

Feuerwehr-Magazin – we are wherever the sector is!

Our target audience/persona

The here portrait “persona” are not in reality existing people but stereotypical representatives of our most important reader/user groups. They help our editors to always consider the readers’ needs, wishes and goals during their research, writing and planning.

David Do-it*
- firefighter since 20 years
- vehicle care, handover and defect detection
- has a say in purchase
- responsible for training schedules

Also gets information from manufacturer courses, internet, Facebook

Especially interested in vehicles and equipment, new technology

»I find reportages about vehicles and equipment as well as operation reports exciting.«

Julia Youthful*
- at the fire station every week
- lots of training, sometimes allowed to come real operations
- goal: joining the volunteer fire brigade
- sometimes buys own equipment

Also gets information from internal seminars, social media channels

Especially interested in reportages, videos

»I already prepare myself intensively for my first real operation with the volunteer fire brigade.«

Ben Burner*
- owns non-corporate protective clothing and equipment
- tries to participate in as many operations as possible
- has several duties/tasks/jobs in his fire station

Also gets information from seminars, further training and seminars, newsletter, fairs, Facebook

Especially interested in training, equipment, product tests and comparisons, operation reports

»I privately bought a second set of almost all my protective clothing and equipment. This way I am always ready.«

Leo Leader*
- lots of management, not a technician
- only at major operations
- administrative duties
- responsible for purchase of new equipment and vehicles

Also gets information from critical specialist reports on equipment and vehicles, tests, organizing, specialized fairs

»I want to learn from other firefighters mistakes in order to find my own solution approaches.«

We prepare all of our content in a way that suits the respective audience, and we publish it on the ideal channel to reach the particular “persona”. This is relevant for our advertising partners too because our readers are your costumers!

*in german language: Marko Macher/Julia Jugendfeuerwehr/Ben Brenner/Leo Leader
Magazines are print information medium number 1 for all (professional and volunteer) fire fighters.

More than 95% of firemen are interested in products from the firefighting field, vehicles and technology.

63% of full-time fire fighters (professional and factory fire brigades) play at least an important role in the decision-making regarding equipment and vehicle purchases.*

47% of fire fighters finance their personal protective equipment (PPE) privately. And pay an amount of up to 100€ per year.

Native Advertising Portfolio

Today, anyone who wants to catch the customer’s attention needs a mix of editorial content and advertising or brand messages, in a nutshell: Native Advertising!

How does Native Advertising work?
Native Advertising is storytelling. Your advertising or brand message is published in our platforms’ editorial environment by means of an editorial plot (story). Or your company (offer) is an integrated element of an editorial topic, without directly engaging in direct product advertising. Native Advertising sustainably supports you in building and extending your company’s and your products’ leading position in your relevant target groups.

What does Native Advertising achieve at Feuerwehr-Magazin [Firefighting Magazine]?
• Your content receives high attention and involvement from our community due to the high credibility and reach of our media brand(s)
• Publication of your content within the look & feel of our editorial environment. We are happy to handle the content creation for you
• Leads to longer time spent on the site and higher involvement with your brand as well as your message and creates long-term effects
• The only way to reach your target group across all relevant communication channels (print, online, social media) and avoiding ad blockers in the process
• Helps to reach your company's and products' whole target group by creating a larger audience for your topic
• Allows for customised communication to the target group, which is relevant for you, due to clear persona definition and positioning of Feuerwehr-Magazin [Firefighting Magazine]
• Supports your company in establishing itself as an opinion leader for your target group on the relevant topics
• Improves the visibility of your brand in search engines and social media channels using SEO optimised multimedia storytelling (editorial, images, graphics, video)

Content is king and we are the topic champions
We are the content specialists for our target group and know exactly which topics our community is interested in. Simply leave the storytelling of your message to us. We will make sure that your topics reach our community effectively.

We will take over the campaign conception, the content creation, the multichannel publishing, the campaign management and the reporting. A one-stop full service – from your target group’s content specialists.

Surcharges
...are so called special publications in PDF format. They effectively and cheaply add to your e.g. mailing drive, enrich your website or your electric brochures.

Regarding inserts, postcards, bound inserts and commercial samples please consider the following points:
• Before order acceptance we need one binding sample or if need be a dummy with size and weight data
• Please send the sample to our printery: ADV Schoder, Herr Waldemar Maier, Aindlinger Straße 17-19, 86167 Augsburg
• Advertising material can only promote the advertiser’s sales program. According to postal regulations, the advertising material must be designed in a way that makes it clearly distinguishable from the editorial content. Placement is dependent on technical capabilities.
• Please don’t send inserts with zigzag folding – this is only available for a surcharge.
• Delivery date: one week after the copy (compare page 8)
• You will get the exact delivery details when placing the order

1. Exclusive Scope, agreement

1.1 In this sense, and for its own account, the Ebner Media Group GmbH & Co. KG, Karl Strasse 3, D-89073 Ulm (hereinafter referred to as “publisher”) markets advertisements for the newspapers and magazines that it publishes.

1.2 The following terms and conditions are exclusively valid for all contractual relationships between the publisher and the customer (hereinafter referred to as “customer”) with regard to the placement of advertisements. The validity of any general terms and conditions of the customer is expressly excluded, even if the publisher does not contradict in individual cases.

1.3 The publisher agrees to comply with the regulations of the minimum wage (MiLoG). This is also valid, insofar as the publisher orders other contracts with attendances.

2. Services; Submission for Publication; Completion

2.1 In the context of these terms and conditions, an “advertising contract” is a contract by an advertiser or other purchaser of advertising space for the publication of one or more advertisements in a publication for the purpose of dissemination.

2.2 In case of doubt, advertisements are to be submitted for publication within one year after the signing of the contract. If a contract grants the right to submit individual advertisement-ments, then the contract is to be completed within one year after the publication of the first advertisement, assuming that the first advertisement was submitted and published during this year.

2.3 Upon signing an advertising contract, the customer also has the right to submit advertising requests to the publisher for the purpose of dissemination.

2.4 If an order is not completed due to reasons for which the publisher is not responsible, then, notwithstanding any other legal obligations, the customer shall pay the publisher the difference between the contractually granted discount (taking into consideration the pre-defined total volume) and the actual total volume delivered (discount adjustment charge). The payment shall not apply if the failure is due to force majeure within the risk area of the publisher.

3. Calculation of Volumes

3.1 For the calculation of volumes, text millimeter lines are converted according to price into advertisement millimeters.

3.2 The publisher must receive orders for advertisements and third-party supplements which are intended for publication in specific numbers, in specific issues or in specific places within the publication before the closing date so that the publisher can notify the customer prior to the advertising deadline, that the order cannot be completed in this way. Class-fi-ed ads will be printed in the relevant section without the need for express agreement.

3.3 Text advertisements are advertised on at least three sides by text and not by other advertisements. Advertisement-ments that are not identifiable as advertisements due to their layout can be clearly labelled as such by the publisher with the word “advertisement.”

4. Publisher’s Right of Refusal; Orders for Supplements

4.1 The publisher reserves the right to refuse advertising orders, individually submitted advertisement-ments in the context of a signed contract or orders for the insertion of supplements due to the content of the advertisement-ments, otherwise due to the advertising policy of the publisher, or due to legally justifed principles of the publisher if their content violates laws or legal regulations. This also applies to offers placed with branch offices or representatives.

4.2 Orders for supplements are binding on the publisher after submission of a sample of the supplement and its approval. Supplements which, due to their format or layout, give the reader the impression that they are part of the newspaper or magazine, which contain third-party advertisement-ments, will be subject to a check. The customer will be notified immediately if the publisher decides to refuse an order.

5. Obligations of the Customer

5.1 The customer is responsible for ensuring the timely delivery of the advertising copy and the flawlessness of the printing documents or supplements. If advertising orders, changes in the scheduling or the desired issue, textual corrections and/or cancellations are communi-cated via telephone, the publisher assumes no liability for such damages. If printing documents are obvious unsuitable or damaged, the publisher shall immediately request re-placements for same. Within the limitations imposed by the printing documents, the publisher guarantees the standard of printing quality customary for the publication.

5.2 Cancellations must be made in writing. If an order is can-celled, the publisher can bill the customer for the costs incurred due to type-setting.

5.3 The customer is obliged to bear the costs of publication of a reply which refers to actual assertions in the published adver-tisements. These costs will be calculated according to the currently applicable advertising rate. This applies only in the event that the publisher is obliged to print the reply.

5.4 Exclusion of competition cannot be guaranteed. Placement re quests are subject to availability of space. The publisher reserves the right to change previous placements due to reasons related to the page layout; such changes shall not affect the validity of the order. The publisher likewise reserves the right to change branch-off-ustry designations.

5.5 If the printed advertisement is wholly or partly illegible, incorrect or incomplete, the cus-tomer has a claim to price reduction or to a perfectly corrected replacement advertisement-ment, but only to the extent to which the purpose of the original advertisement was im-paired. If the publisher fails to publish the replacement advertisement within an agreed and reasonable time period or if the replacement advertisement is again flawed, then the custom er has a right to a price reduction or to cancellation of the order.

6. Liability of the Publisher

6.1 The publisher assumes unlimited liability for damages caused by its legal representatives or executive employees and for damages caused due to other agents acting on its behalf, in the event of a negligent breach of duty, the publisher is also liable for dam ages arising from injury to life, body, or health. The publisher is liable for damages caused by its legal representatives or executive em ployees arising from the breach of cardinal obligations; cardinal obligations are those which form the core of this contract, which were crucial for the completion of this contract, and upon the fulfillment of which the licenssee can rely. If the publisher has breached these cardinal obligations due to slight negligence, then his liability is limited to the amount which was foreseeable for the publisher at the time when each service was rendered. The publisher is liable for the loss of data only up to the amount that would have been incurred for the loss of data if proper and regular back up of the data had been undertaken. Further liability of the licensor is excluded.

7. Proofs; Calculation

7.1 Proofs will be provided only by request. The customer bears the responsibility for the correctness of the returned proofs. The publisher has the right to expect the corrections to be commu-nicated to him within the period specified when the proofs were sent to the customer.

7.2 If no special instructions about the size and dimensions are given, the calculation will be based on the customary and actual printed height of the advertisement.

8. Invoicing; Delay; Voucher Copy of the Advertisement

8.1 If the customer has not paid in advance, then the invoice will be sent immediately or no later than fourteen days after the publi cation of the advertisement.

8.2 Unless a different payment period or prepayment has been agreed in individual instances, the invoice must be paid within the period specified in the contract, which begins with the customer’s receipt of the invoice. Any discounts for early payment will be granted as specified in the price list.

8.3 Interest and collection fees will be charged if the payment is delayed or deferred. In the event of a delayed payment, the publisher can delay completion of the current order until the pay ment is received and can demand payment for the remaining advertising fees.

8.4 If there is reasonable doubt about the solvency of the customer, the publisher has the right, also during the running time of an advertising contract and without consideration of an originally agreed payment date, to make the publication of further adver-tisements contingent upon the advance payment of the amount and the settlement of outstanding invoices.

8.5 If so desired by the customer, the publisher will deliver a voucher copy of the published advertisement together with the invoice. Depending on the nature and size of the order, the delivered voucher copy will consist of tear sheets, full pages or complete copies of the issue that carried the advertisement. If a voucher can no longer be obtained, its place shall be taken by a legally binding certification from the publisher averring that the advertisement was indeed published and disseminated.

9. Cost; Price Reduction

9.1 The customer shall bear the expenses of preparing ordered printing blocks, stencils and drawings, as well as the expenses of significant changes to the originally agreed versions desired by the customer or for which the customer is responsible.

9.2 In case of a contract covering several advertisements, a de crease in circulation can serve as the basis for a claim to price reduction if the average circulation specified in the price list or otherwise mentioned is not achieved in the overall average of the year beginning with the scheduled publication of the first adver-tisement or, in the event that no circulation volume is mentioned, if the average sold circulation (for special-interest magazines: the average actually distributed circulation) is less than the average sold circulation during the previous calendar year. A decrease in circulation is a shortcoming which justifies a price reduction only to following extents:

- 20% price reduction for circulation up to and including 50,000 copies
- 15% price reduction for circulation up to and including 100,000 copies
- 10% price reduction for circulation up to 500,000 copies
- 5% price reduction for circulation of 500,000 or more copies.

Additionally, claims for price reduction are excluded if the pub-lisher has informed the cus-tomer of the reduced circulation so far in advance that the customer could cancel the or-de prior to the publication of the advertisements.

10. Classified Advertisements with Box Numbers; Documents; Storage

10.1 For classified advertisements with box numbers, the pub-lisher will exercise the due diligence incumbent upon a prudent businessman to assume that the fulfillment of his obligations towards the customer is ensured. Registered and express letters in response to classified ad-ver-tisements with box numbers will be forwarded by normal post.

10.2 The publisher will return valuable documents without being obliged to do so. Letters which exceed the permissible DIN C 4 format (weight: 500 grams), parcels containing merchandise, books or catalogues, and small packages will not be forwarded and their delivery will be refused. However, in exceptional instances, ac ceptance of delivery and forwarding can be agreed if the customer pays the costs and/or fees incurred for such delivery.

10.3 In the interest of the customer and for his protection, the publisher reserves the right to open and to inspect incoming letters or parcels in order to prevent or eliminate any mis-use of box-number services. The publisher is not obliged to forward personal papers or similar objects; documents or catalogues, and small packages will be returned only at the specific request of the customer. The obli-gation to keep such documents ends three months after the expiration of the order.

11. Place of Performance and Place of Jurisdiction; Applicable Law

11.1 In business transactions with merchants, legal entities or special funds under public law, the place of performance and the place of jurisdiction is the head office of the publisher. However, the publisher has the right to sue at the court of law which is responsible for the region in which the customer’s head office is located.

11.2 German law applies with the exclusion of the UN Sales Convention.
